British Steel For Canada

Special to The Bulletin
LONDON, Jan. 14.—(BUP)—Steel firms today expected Canadian orders worth an $100,000,000 as a result of a visit to the Dominion by a five-man team representing the industry.

With the federal government in a receptive mood after having obtained unanimity at the Dominion-Provincial conference, most of the 10 premiers here jumped in to press back-home projects in a post-conference day of activity.

SIOUX LOOKOUT, Ont., Jan. 14.—(CP)—A strange battle to the death with an Arctic Owl was described today by Frank Paivainen, who homesteads five miles west of here.

"I was walking along the highway when this fellow flew in my face," he said. "I tried to dig it taking into my coat. I tried to show it off with my hands. I even kicked it, but it came back again and again."

Mr. Paivainen finally picked up a stick and struck the bird five times before it dropped dead at his feet. It had a wingspread of four feet.

U.S. Demands Czechs Clarify Denial Note

By Edward V. Roberts
WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(BUP)—Two iron curtain nations have officially informed United States that they can find no trace of Noel Field, former state department official. He vanished mysteriously last summer.

Czechoslovak foreign office, in a note, delivered in Washington last week, said that neither Field nor his missing wife, Herta Field, can be found in Czechoslovakia.

Field vanished from Prague May 12. His wife, who presumably had gone there to look for him, disappeared Aug. 25.

It was also learned today that the Hungarian government, in a reply to an American query last month, said that there was no record of the Fields having entered Hungary.

NO ANSWER YET
The Polish government to date has not answered a parallel American demand for information about Field's brother, Herman Field, Cleveland, O., who vanished in Poland Aug. 22. Herman dropped from sight after going to Warsaw airport to take a plane for Prague, where his brother's wife, Herta, was waiting to meet him. He never arrived.

U.S. officials disclosed that this government was not entirely satisfied with the latest Czech note and has requested "clarifications."

It was understood that this government particularly wanted to know when and where Noel and Herta Fields last were seen in Czechoslovakia before their disappearance.

Noel Field, because of his mysterious part, is regarded as the key figure in the triple disappearance. He has been named as a spy for both sides in the cold war.

The idea will be put into operation by sociologist Henry Cohen of New York, a guest lecturer at the University.

"I am going to find out who the people interpret their own problems," said Cohen, who has been in Britain a year.

TREK OF UNEMPLOYED TO ALBERTA FORECAST

By Edward Curtis
LONDON, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Britain is aiming at another sharp cut in dollar spending for food, tobacco and raw materials to prepare for the end of Marshall Aid in 1952.

This was disclosed last night in an official memorandum submitted to the Organization for European Economic Co-operation.

The drop in purchases from the dollar area will be accompanied by the curtailment of Marshall Aid funds expected for Britain in the next two years.

British planning is on the assumption, the memorandum said, that Marshall Aid funds would be $200,000,000 for 1950-51, and $400,000,000 for 1951-52.

In the current 1949-50 period, Britain is receiving Marshall Aid help at the rate of $200,000,000 a year. The Marshall Aid fiscal year begins July 1.

Britain's dollar spending, mostly in the United States and Canada, was $1,544,000,000 in 1948-49.

NO ESTIMATION
It now is in the process of reducing these dollar expenses to $1,360,000,000 for the current year of 1949-50.

Its target is to whittle these dollar costs to $1,170,700,000 for 1950-51, and to $1,000,000,000 for 1951-52.

The memorandum makes no estimate of Britain's dollar needs after Marshall Aid ends June 30, 1952.

The memorandum said the economic planning was based on the assumption that U.S. business conditions will remain unchanged and continue to provide Britain with a market for dollar earnings, and the prices of dollar supplies would stay around the level of Oct. 20, 1948.

Improper Rental Increases Tried

Whether by accident or design, there are some landlords who are attempting to secure improper rental increases.

In part, this is the responsibility of the tenant, because if he will not take the trouble to ascertain the proper rental for the premises, he is responsible for any increase. One important point is that the tenant must receive proper notice of the increase.

In the case of lodging, this notice must be as long a notice as "as prescribed by the law of the province in which the lodging is situated for the giving of a notice to vacate." That means a month's notice in some cases and in cases where there is only a weekly tenancy, it has been held to mean only a week's notice.

Under the general rule in the case of a monthly tenancy is that a month's notice must be given. However, it must also be a month's notice in the sense of being a full month of the tenancy.

For example, if your tenancy runs from the first to the end of the calendar month, then the notice to increase rent should be given before the end of the month if it is to become effective after the end of the next month.

If such a notice was not given before January 1, the rent could not be increased before February 1. If the notice was given until January 1, the rent would not become effective until March 1.

Advice Should Always Be Sought

That is only one illustration. Each case should be considered by someone able to advise you. There is no doubt that some landlords have tried to give a notice of only a few days, or less than a month or less than the month of the tenancy; and if these notices are accepted, the landlord is some tenant is going to pay before he should.

In the case of the self-contained dwelling which includes self-contained units the rent cannot be increased unless the landlord gives a lease of not less than one year at the increased rent. He must, of course, also give a reasonable length of notice before he can do this.

However, if the tenant has agreed, less than this can be effected.

There are many other provisions which have been in effect.

and there are cases where landlords have attempted to convince them that the rental regulations permit the increasing of the rent stipulated in these leases.

That is not correct.

Under the new regulation, where there is less a term certain—means any lease renting you premises for a stipulated number of months, weeks or years—the landlord may give a notice that the rent is to be increased, but that increase cannot take effect until after the present lease runs out.

That a tenant who holds a lease on a suite for a year is entitled to remain in it as long as the rent specified in that lease until the end of that year. After that the rent can be raised, but not before.

There are many other provisions affecting rents and I would only refer to the fact by illustrating to generalise. In fact the illustrations given are simply to point out some of the possibilities in the hope that tenants will be on their guard.

Misleading Angle To Rental Booms

What makes this latest rental market misleading is that, under the regulations which are now being made out on the forms provided by the Rental Board.

The form itself is a misleading one. It is a form which is effective and because of this there is a tendency to accept it as a form which is correct.

The fact is that regardless of what the notice may say, if the landlord is not complied with the new regulations with regard to terms that notice may not be given.

Again, it is a mistake to jump to conclusions because the regulations are not yet in force. It is not until you should have done something about it, you have to wait until the regulations are in force.

By complying strictly with the regulations, landlords can obtain the specific advantages which the regulations have given them.

It is why they are entitled to certain and nothing more. Thus, if a landlord is not in compliance with the regulations, he is not entitled to certain of his position should find out from the Rental Board.

The utterly selfish and sectional view of the British Columbia government with regard to the route of the Trans-Canada Highway only emphasizes the imperative need for a federal commission of experts to choose a route on the basis of national requirements.

The Edmonton Bulletin has pointed out from the beginning that if the course of the highway were left to the province, sectional pressure could dictate a series of choices which could very easily make construction expensive or even impossible and which would not necessarily conform with the national interest.

That forecast seems to be borne out in the present situation.

The merits and advantages of the Yellowhead route are no obvious that only strong parochial bias would venture to deny them.

It will serve a greater population than any other route and run through four national and five provincial parks.

It will pass through many wooded areas with a minimum of wind and dust.

It can be kept open the year around because it has the lowest elevation and the least snowfall of all three routes.

It will cost less per mile to build and maintain for the same reasons.

It is the only route connecting with the Alaska Highway, the Canadian tourist attraction most widely publicized throughout the United States.

It is the only route capable of providing adequately and effectively for the defence requirements of Canada.

Therefore, economy, utility, attractiveness, tourist appeal and military necessity all combine to make the Yellowhead route the logical and inevitable choice from the standpoint of national requirements.

But British Columbia rejects it because it will not put the most dollars in British Columbia pockets.

Surely this fact makes the argument for a choice by a committee of experts, unprejudiced to sectional demands, overwhelming and unanswerable.

And oil can be used as a power source in railway locomotives.

But CNR officials have said that oil-burning equipment does not exist in sufficient quantities to replace the coal-burning engines and are shut down for lack of American coal.

If oil-burning equipment does not exist, why doesn't it exist?

The labor situation in American coal mines has been known and understood in Canada for months and years.

Why, then, has the CNR not had the foresight to provide itself with alternative sources of power or to consult the possibility of using surplus Alberta coal?

The entire situation is a bad bungle in which the economy of the whole country is menaced.

What is the mere act of calling the dead Lazarus from the tomb compared with the act of forgiving sin?

The life of Christ is so bound up and so overflowing with the power of His love that those who understand His love are moved to believe, not that He recorded miracles, but that there must have been thousands of miracles that were not recorded at all.

Christ performed miracles because He was essentially miraculous. This places no more strain on the healthy reason than it places on the healthy faith.

It is the only route connecting with the Alaska Highway, the Canadian tourist attraction most widely publicized throughout the United States.

It is the only route capable of providing adequately and effectively for the defence requirements of Canada.

Therefore, economy, utility, attractiveness, tourist appeal and military necessity all combine to make the Yellowhead route the logical and inevitable choice from the standpoint of national requirements.

But British Columbia rejects it because it will not put the most dollars in British Columbia pockets.

Surely this fact makes the argument for a choice by a committee of experts, unprejudiced to sectional demands, overwhelming and unanswerable.

And oil can be used as a power source in railway locomotives.

Varscona Gets Musical Hit From Opera

Rarely has a motion picture received as much acclaim as Columbia's "The Lost One" (La Traviata) which has been held over at the Varscona Theatre. Even since its New York opening, critics as well as movie-goers have been unanimous in their praise of this unusual blending of Alexandre Dumas' classic love story, "Lady of the Camellias," and the glorious music of Verdi's opera. The renowned Dr. Sigmund Spaeth has referred to "The Lost One" as "unquestionably the best presentation of grand opera yet to reach the screen." Other film and music authorities have hailed the production as an entirely new experience for movie audiences.

LARGE CAST
Headed the large cast are Nelly Corradi and Gino Materna as the star-crossed pair whose romance has been celebrated the world over and still quickens the hearts of all who love. Although sung entirely in Italian, their story is told in English. The libretto for "The Lost One" was written by R. M. Have. Hector Panizza conducted the orchestra and chorus of the Rome Opera House which provides the musical background in support of the principal. The film was directed by Carmine Gallone, for producer Gregor Kabinovich.

Reds Ask Break

ROME, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Italy's Communist last night demanded that Italy break with the Atlantic Alliance and cast off American economic ties when a new government is formed. It is presumed these demands were placed today before President Luigi Einaudi when he interviewed Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti preparatory to designating a premier to form a government.

It was not until the 16th century that the whole of France was ruled by a king—Hugh Capet, whose descendants ruled for 800 years.

Pipeline Bills Promise Debates

Legislators Eyeing Return Of Two Bills For Gas Export

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(CP)—A time issue appearing in the Canada Gazette today gives promise of some lively debates at the approaching session of parliament. It might even turn out to be another filibuster.

It is given that a private bill will be placed before parliament asking that a company known as Prairie Transmissions Inc. be incorporated. The purpose is to export gas pipeline bills carrying natural and artificial gas to Alberta and British Columbia and outside Canada.

The name is a familiar one because it appeared in the longest debate of the last session. For weeks the opposition and several Liberal MPs, particularly George Chuhan, made a number of speeches and filibusters to delay the bill and another one like it.

KILL TWO BILLS
Private bills are not sponsored by the government. In the Commons only two hours a week are left for the discussion of private bills, and it was an easy matter for the opposing members to filibuster their way through each hour-long session.

The result was that they killed the two bills completely, preventing their re-introduction at the next session.

The opposition to these bills are that they contain no safeguard for regulating export of oil from Canada. The members opposed to the measures because they did not contain the route of proposed gas lines.

Chief argument of those who supported the bills was that Alberta as well as the Prairie Department could regulate export of oil or natural gas from Canada.

However, the opposition wasn't satisfied. The fear was that if the bills passed parliament without any safeguards, there would be no effective control thereafter.

NO INDICATIONS
There is no indication that the bill to be introduced at the next session, expected to start around the end of January, will contain the details of the controversial route.

Online it does, the Commons can be assured of more strong opposition to this and other pipe line measures which come before it.

The company was to be incorporated either as Prairie Transmissions Inc. or Prairie Pipe Lines and it was intended to plan, construct, operate and maintain gas pipelines from Alberta into the northwestern United States and British Columbia.

Seamen Organize A Third Union

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—(CP)—An enthusiastic meeting of the new Canadian Brotherhood of Seamen, opposing Canada's other two major seamen's unions, was held here last night.

More than 100 seamen at the meeting agreed to start a founding conference Jan. 15-16 to draw up a constitution.

The Brotherhood will oppose the C.I.O.'s International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (IUMSWA) and the Canadian Seamen's Union, expelled from the trades and labor congresses by the communist-dominated International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America.

The new union is yet unaffiliated with any labor group.

Chairman Eddy Bell declared: "The C.I.U. has reached the end of the road. The IUMSWA is nothing but a labor racketeering outfit."

The IUMSWA is a union of 10,000 seamen and shipbuilders. It is a communist-dominated union. It is a union of 10,000 seamen and shipbuilders. It is a communist-dominated union.

SISTER ALSO

Boy 4, Feels 'Like Mush' After Lapse

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 14.—

A four-year-old boy was lashed with a double rope until his back and chest "felt like mush."

Police chief E. E. Baker said little Charles S. Donahue and his two-year-old sister were under treatment in hospital today.

The boy is in poor condition. His two-year-old sister, Caroline, also was badly beaten, but her condition is not so serious.

The mother, Anna Becker, 34, said she and her husband were held on an open charge pending outcome of the boy's condition.

THREE YEARS ago it wasn't even a dream. But a pipeline from Edmonton to carry oil eastward will soon be a reality and planning for the job, and its operation, will be carried out in this new building for the Interprovincial Pipeline Co.

Commercial Building Completed Within Limit

Despite an unforeseen holdup in delivery of construction steel, the New Commercial Building at 8215-100 street was completed in six months almost to the day from the time the power shovels began to gouge out the deep, full basement last May.

Now housing all offices of the Interprovincial Pipeline Company, the building was completed by S. H. Parsons Construction Co., as general contractors. It originally was designed to accommodate stores and offices.

BUILDING CHANGED

Mr. Parsons said original design had all the offices on the second floor with space for three stores in the main floor and billiard room in the basement.

The present tenant applied however for the whole building for its offices.

The building then partially completed, was requisitioned to the new conditions but at any time in the future it could easily be reconverted for store purposes, said Mr. Parsons.

Building owner is Charles Rapp, proprietor of Horton's Ladies Wear.

During the six months an average of 25 men worked daily to prepare the building for occupancy last November. The building is of red brick facing, two stories in height with full concrete basement.

A steam heating system and air conditioning assure even temperatures and regulated humidity throughout the building.

The building is subdivided into four reduces noise and enhances modern appearance. Heavy quality battleship linoleum is used throughout on the floors.

In the basement and on the first floor there are a number of built-in fireproof vaults for the protection of tenants' records and valuable papers.

A restroom area is built in the basement and washrooms are of substantial concrete construction.

Home For Pipeline Company

Permanent Setup
Will be in City;
Work Starts Soon

Some 70 office workers of the Interprovincial Pipeline Company soon will be located in new quarters in the new Commercial Building, 8215-100 street, when the last finishing touches are applied in the next few days.

Equipment and a large proportion of the staff already have moved to the new building.

Remainder of the staff will move within the next few weeks to the headquarters of an industry which even two years ago would not have been considered probable.

PERMANENT SETUP

L. F. Khale, vice-president in charge of operations today said plans for headquarters in Edmonton are permanent. All operations will be directed from here.

Of the new building Mr. Khale said it is providing satisfactory office space.

General efficiency of office administration will be much easier for everyone concerned when the remainder of the staff moves in from their present quarters in the Crescent Furniture building.

Route of the crude oil pipeline will be from Edmonton through Regina to Superior, Wis.

From that United States point the black gold from Edmonton's oil fields will be shipped in Sarnia, Ont., and to other Canadian refineries on the Great Lakes.

Distribution of pipe lengths now is under way. They are being unloaded along railway lines, said Mr. Khale.

LAYING WORK STARTED

An operation within the next two weeks will mark the first in a series of major moves in the oil pipeline.

At Outlook, Sask., pipeline is being prepared for a link across the South Saskatchewan river, said Mr. Khale.

Describing it, Mr. Khale said the pipe is laid, connected, across the ice which is then cut, allowing the pipe to drop to the shallow river bed.

A power trench digger then will cut a groove deep enough to bury the line.

General work of laying of the pipeline will commence as soon as the front is out of the ground next spring, he said.

Flow capacity will be 90,000 barrels a day from Edmonton to Regina, and 10,000 from that point to Superior.

There will be six booster stations throughout the system.

Completion of the pipeline will be a big factor in the development of western Canada, said Mr. Khale.

Of the 800 men of the Argill and Rutherford Highlanders who fought in the Malayan campaign, only 100 were left to cross the causeway onto the island of Singapore.

Slammin' Sam Paces Pebble Beach Entry

PEBBLE BEACH, Cal. Jan. 14—(CP)—Pebble Beach, Calif. is a small town, but it's a big deal in the world of golf. The town is famous for its Pebble Beach Golf Links, which is one of the most famous golf courses in the world. The town is also famous for its Pebble Beach Hotel, which is one of the most famous hotels in the world.

Sneed, firing a brilliant three-under-par 68 yesterday, was the only one to break even. He finished the day with a 70, Sneed was out in 38 and back in two-under-par 33.

Sneed's brilliant 68, plus aid from his partner, attorney Roger Kelly, three-time California champion, from Los Angeles, also gave the duo the leadership in the pro-amateur division with a 44-under-par 68.

Hogan, playing fine golf for 14 holes, fell apart when the cold north wind started blowing. He was even par going into the par-three 18th, and took two double bogies and a bogey on the next three holes.

Behind Sneed and Bessler came Dave Douglas, Wilmington, Del. professional, with a 71, and Marty Furel of Albuquerque, N.M., and Smiley Quirk of Los Angeles, each with 72.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver professional, fired 73-71 for 144.

'THE RATTLER' TEES OF BLACK BEARS

Vancouver Eyes 1954 BE Games

VANCOUVER, Jan. 14—(CP)—move to Vancouver's airport for the 1954 British Empire Games. The running is a race for the 1954 British Empire Games. The running is a race for the 1954 British Empire Games.

Civic and sports officials were enthusiastic and Mayor Charles Thompson said he would call a meeting of all interested parties early next week.

Canada's bid for the 1954 games, already has gone to Auckland, N.Z., scene of the 1950 games. However, Col. George G. Macdonald, president of the British Empire Games Association, said that while Canada was the probable site of the games, he understood only Hamilton and Toronto were interested.

Mayor Thompson called for immediate action on looking into this city's potential qualifications to ask for the games.

"We certainly cannot afford to let this chance go by," declared J. C. Moffat, Parks Board member. "We must get together and consider the entire situation."

Vice-president Ann Clark of the women's section of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada said of the move: "It's wonderful. It's the best news I've heard in 21 years with the women's federation."

"I know we could do a job of it. We have the athletes and the officials. I will give all possible support to the move."

"I don't think we should miss this at all," said T. G. Norris, K.C., president of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

MEMBERS of Canada's British Empire Games team, headed for Tuesday hop-off from Vancouver by air for New Zealand, stopped over briefly here yesterday. Frank Saxon, wrestling coach, was snapped on steps of train coach.

IT'll be a lot warmer for training once the athletes reach New Zealand but cold or no fighters Ronnie Muir, left, and Frank Ravenda, loomed up on station platform. Toronto's Muir battles in the 112-pound division, while the hefty Ravenda, from Montreal, fights in the 140-pound class.

Predicts Win for Canada In British Empire Games

By Dick Beidies
Canada's British Empire Games team is going to where it's a lot warmer.

But yesterday the wrestling, boxing, and weightlifting members of the Canuck crew received a taste of the weather. The team, which was en route to Auckland, New Zealand, for the Empire jamboree.

Frank Saxon, veteran Olympic and British Empire Games wrestling coach from Montreal, was in charge of the 13-man party.

The New Zealand classic will be Saxon's third appearance as coach of the Canadian wrestling team in the British Empire Games. The previous Montreal raiders have participated in three Olympic Games as a team and coach in previous events.

Following the 1952 Olympics at London, Saxon coached the Canadian team. While here he wrestled Vladimir Zhyznev, one of the top professionals of the day to a draw. As to Canada's chances in the Empire games, Saxon had this to say:

"Our wrestlers will give a creditable account of themselves, and I understand the boxers are capable. I wouldn't be surprised to see aggressive victory in judo, although it will take us while to get acclimated 'down under'."

Long time of local interest centered around weightlifter Frank Ravenda, a BCAC sergeant from Redcliffe, Ontario. While stationed here in 1942 Ravenda married an Edmonton girl.

At the same time Saskatoon Quakers play back to Regina Caps. The Quakers dropped a decisive loss to the Caps, ending the Hawks' week 4-3 in Regina.

However, Ottawa's Quakers players will be favored to turn the tables tomorrow, advantage of home being a factor. The Quakers seem to be in the worst position.

Cloverdale Wins
Cloverdale edged Nations 4-3 last night in an intermunicipal hockey game played at Varsity rink.

Cloverdale goal, peters were scored by McGowan, Nations' Melton marksmen were Rich, Nicholson, and Proulx.

RCGA Meet Feb. 11
TORONTO, Jan. 14—(CP)—The annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Golf Association will be held here Feb. 11 and 12. The association's 1954 annual meeting will be held here Feb. 11 and 12.

So you have it on good authority from Geary and Marotti—that they will both have other's brains out when they collide Monday. Both taper off training today at the Gymnasium in Edmonton.

Another clash in the supporting act appears imminent with Boutin-Guyon from Carleton Place and McGowan from Carleton Place.

Attention is also for the fight emanated at Mike's this morning and will continue through the day.

IT'll be a lot warmer for training once the athletes reach New Zealand but cold or no fighters Ronnie Muir, left, and Frank Ravenda, loomed up on station platform. Toronto's Muir battles in the 112-pound division, while the hefty Ravenda, from Montreal, fights in the 140-pound class.

LEAF'S HARRY WATSON INJURED IN PRACTICE

TORONTO, Jan. 14—(CP)—Harry Watson, Toronto Maple Leafs ace left wing, was hurt in a National Hockey League club for a week or more yesterday when he was cut about the hip in practice.

Leafs are scheduled to meet Boston Bruins here tonight in an attempt to vault over the Bruins into fourth place in the league standing. Vic Lynn, used as a utility forward in Wednesday's victory over New York Rangers, will take over Watson's spot.

Leafs centerman Bernie Bathgate, bothered by injuries for a good part of the season, was on the receiving end of three heavy checks but although he went off for repairs, he later continued in action.

Stamps Take 1st Place; Caps Edge Quakers 4-3

CALGARY, Jan. 14—(CP)—Calgary Stampede, great home-ice competitors, last night wrestled the Western Canada Hockey League lead from Edmonton with a 2-0 victory over the Flyers before 4,500 fans. Victory gives Stamps a one-point margin over Flyers.

The contest, played Friday the 13th night, was the 13th meeting of the two clubs this season. In addition, Flyers were up against the jinx of never having won against Stamps on Calgary ice this season.

But probably the biggest jinx for Flyers was goalie Russ Derrtel. The Calgary defender, playing another, stand-out game, racked up his fourth shutout of the season. Only other league netminder with a shutout to his credit is Regina's Harry Barcroft.

RAY FREDERICK... Bested in Duel

Bill Kyle and Bill Kyle assisted. Kyle figured in all of Regina's tallies, scoring twice and assisting twice. McDougall also figured elsewhere in the score sheet, taking the first goal of the game in the first period.

For Saskatoon, Bill Maher, Vic Myles and Cy Rouse shared scoring honors.

With clincher came at 12:14 at the height of a Cap attack. He took the pass from McDougall just inside the blueline and let loose a screener shot that beat Quaker goalie Johnny Bostak.

Caps pressed their drive to add to the lead but missed their chance when Troy Brown was tripped while in the clear. Myles went to the penalty box for hooking.

Cap goalie Harry Barcroft turned back a late Quaker attack that threatened to tie things up again, and Saskatoon yanked Sofia in a last-minute effort to save the day.

Caps held a definite edge of play in the first two periods, outshooting the Quakers and taking a 2-1 lead at the end of the first period. McDougall counted early on a rush from the blueline while Caps were playing free forwards.

Maher moved the count minutes later, but Caps took the lead when Kyle kicked in Hill's pass.

Another glaring attack early in the second period paid off for Regina, with Kyle's second goal, but Saskatoon scored back. Lou Hawk was serving time when Myles took a pass from Mike Shabagas and Howie Milne, and Rouse clicked in less than a minute to tie the game.

Saskatoon out-shot Regina 33 to 20.

"Further, upon receiving a report of a referee that he has been subjected to abuse or other attempt to intimidate him or any manager or coach of any club during the course of or at the conclusion of a game, such coach or manager shall be subject to a fine of $50 payable before the coach or manager goes for his club in any further game."

With regard to playoffs, it should be pointed out that, in previous years the league playoffs have been held prior to the determination of the schedule of the Allan Cup playoffs.

The league executive determined to deal with playoff arrangements at the mid-season meeting of the CCHA. The executive will meet on Jan. 22 when the schedule of playoffs for the league will be completed.

QUEBEC LEAGUE AGAINST FINES
However, across the country heads of other leagues had some things to say relative to the latest action of the CCHA. The executive will meet on Jan. 22 when the schedule of playoffs for the league will be completed.

President of the Quebec league, George Slater, stated: "I wouldn't want to impose a fine. What's more, I don't think we have the power under our own regulations to do so. The Quebec Amateur Hockey Association (A.H.A.) will be asked to take action with referees."

Another spokesman for the Maritime and Cape Breton leagues said their league never had considered levying automatic fines.

ON SPORT

It's Only Money

Let's spin the sports sphere: Attention 'Cagey' Ken Montgomery, treasurer of the grid Eskimos as you think you've got a headache after wrestling with football accounts for the past few months. Consider, though, the case of Ted Collins, owner of New York Yankees of the National pro league. In five years Collins stuffed off a mere $1,000,000 (wonder how that $800 sneaked in there?) as he sought to put the Yankees over with New Yorkers. . . It so happens that Mr. Collins, who "discovered" Kite Smith, among other things, has nothing but money still hopes to make the Yanks a going concern. . . Add pluge-of-the-week dept. to Stu Barnston, director of the Juvenile Hockey League, for making it possible for the kids in that sixteen league to play at the Gardens last night. At the same time we understand that Jim Paul (perhaps it was Jim Davidson) or some other Garden's big-wig gave the juveniles a pretty good shake so that they came very close to paying their own way. Let's hope Barnston and associates do it all over again before too long. That big surface will bring the young fellows along like nothing else.

Pacing Bob Struther, Meteor basketball coach: What was that you said back there a few weeks ago . . . no team in the league was "within 15 points of the Meteors"? (Score last night: Varsity 54, Meteors 32).

Smokies Have Close Shave

It was close enough: Members of the Trail Smoke Eaters puck machine (Terry Cavanagh, et al) narrowly escaped injury—and possible death—recently when a passenger train and a freight job roared through each other near Cranbrook. Smokies—who were headed for Kimberley to tackle Coach Ken MacAuley's Dynamiters in a Western International League tussle—made it the rest of the way by bus. . . Remember the recent antics of Seattle Ironmen's owner Frank Doten last fall when he tipped off the rest of the country to the fact that he had signed ex-Leithbridge Maple Leaf Stan Maxwell to a contract? By now Mr. Doten may be wondering a little. Latest PCHL statistics show winger Maxwell tied for 29th spot with Normie Kirk, former Edmonton junior who is worth no more than a second season's salary in the Western League. The Maxwell-Jirk point total is 31. . . Nomination for the hard-luck guy of 1950, to this point: golfer Jerry Barber who had a 30 stroke lead on the field in the L.A. Open after 54 holes (the big slice is $2,500) only to have the tournament committee wipe out the third round because of rain. Subsequently Barber blew higher than a kite, finished well below the last.

Nell Colville, who was trying to play for—as well as coach—New Haven Ramblers of the AHL, has been laced away from the playing role, for keeps, he says.

Still, You Gotta Keep Stop

Wonder how Marty Burke, Calgary Stampeder's ace pitcher (where photographers are concerned) would get along as a pitcher in the American Hockey League? Recently heads of that enterprising lot offered a $150 award for the best action shot taken this season. Guess they've to write a brand new deal for him. Burke ever turned up coaching in the loop—or else make that worthy see the light. . . Just about now followers of the Flyers will be inclined to give up when it comes to finding an answer for the team's difficulty when playing in Victoria Arena, Calgary. It's for certain Stampeder's rarely look like any part of a hard-rock hockey squad at the Gardens, which only serves further to confuse the issue. Who knows the answer for these economic reversals of form? . . . Your old friends Alex Watt, as playing coach, and Eddie Shamlock, as fourth place Nannaimo Clippers of the Mainline-Okanagan Hockey wheel. At last accounting Clippers had only Paul Ruggie's Kerriade squad topped in the standings.

Certain influential hockey men locally are just about at the stage of wanting to let that next season there'll be an Edmonton junior entry in a league comprising Prince Albert, Humboldt, Elm Flon and one or two other centres. Wanna bet?

DON PETTIE IS LONE ALBERTAN AT GAMES

CALGARY, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Don Pettie, slightly-built under speedster, will leave here today for Vancouver to join a 36-game tour of the British Empire games and officials to the British Empire games in New Zealand.

Pettie, only five foot five, will run the 100 and 220-yard dashes and the 400-yard relay. The only Alberta athlete attending the games, he was also a member of Canada's track team at the Olympic games.

Marty Marion In Dual Role

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (UPI)—Marty Marion, the 15-year-old Los Angeles field coach for the St. Louis Cardinals, today duals into his regular role as a professional athlete.

In announcing the move, Fred M. Satch, Jr., owner of the Cardinals, said Marion was the youngest of the team's great wealth of experience that Marion has.

In his first dual role, Marion will coach the Cardinals' infield for the past 10 years, and base director.

BEARS TURN TRICK

Stop the Press! Meteors Beaten

Traditional 'bad luck' associated with Friday the 13th slapped coach Bob Struther in the face last night as his Meteors, breaking their first game of the league season, were outclassed by Varsity 54-32 at Varsity gym.

In the opener of the Senior Men's Basketball pool twill, Stanling Davis won their second game to date, again downing YMCA Trollers this time by 56-31.

It wasn't all bad luck that for Meteors in their first loss, and plenty of credit to date to Bears basketball. Fred, Maury Van Vleet, Van Vleet, rated one of Canada's best hoop coaches, has really improved his squad since the start of the season. Mixing a little psychology, following lots of practice he had his boys checking Meteors to a standstill last night.

BEARS ALL THE WAY

It was Varsity all the way as they opened the scoring within the first few minutes of the game and kept their lead throughout.

At one stage in the first half it looked as though Meteors might open up and overpower Bears as they tagged along a few points behind. But the students were on the bit and nothing could stop them.

At the end of the first half the Meteors were leading by 15 points, with Varsity holding a 20-10 lead.

MENDRYK STARS

Mendryk was the star of the game. Weaving and dodging, then pivoting and breaking through to shoot, he tallied 16 points for Bears. Williams was right behind him with 12, while George Pearce led the losers with 10.

Some one was at fault and something should be done for in the first game of the evening six players went to the showers early for having five fouls, and this "whistle contest" had a total of 50 fouls, only two short of the record.

Staking their exit early for the Young Trollers were Grant Martin, Ted Atkinson and Don Loucks while Spaulding's "bad news" were Chuck Fenech, Bill Mayson and Jack Collins.

Spaulding's Meteors moved to third spot by downing the Trollers last night. John Pincus and Tony Schmick were the eye sharpshooters for Meteors, notching 12 and 11 points respectively.

Ted Atkinson led Armor 80th losing squad with 15.

LEADERS

Spaulding—Calculus 2, Pincus 2, Atkinson 11, Collins 2, Mayson 4.

INT CAGE

LOOP LEADERS

TO PLAY HERE

Magrath Lions, leading team in the International Basketball league, are scheduled to play two exhibition games in Edmonton next weekend.

The action was fast and rugged during the three games with both teams about even, until Wright, firing from the blue line through a screen of players, blazed one past Kovacs.

Lions, spearheaded by ex-Edmonton Bill Price, will play a game each against Varsity Golden Bears and Waterloo Meteors.

Varsity will be played Friday and Saturday at the Varsity Drill Hall.

Golden Bears, western intercollegiate champions and defenders of the Rigby trophy will meet Saskatchewan Huskies here later in the month and travel to Saskatoon on February 24-25 for two games with U. of S.

Mercurys in Squeak 4-3 Win Over Dundee Tigers

DUNDEE, Scotland, Jan. 14 — (CP) — Edmonton Mercurys last night extended their winning streak in Scotland to three with a 4-3 victory over Dundee Tigers—but it was their toughest tussle to date.

Three times Canada's representatives to the coming world amateur hockey tournament took the lead and three times the locals fought back to level the contest, until defenseman Pete Wright sank the elusive 11 minutes from the final buzzer.

The youngsters took the lead in the first 10 seconds when winger Doug Macauley netted Harry Allen's pass. Filizayson of the Tigers evaded the score after 10 minutes, but centre Al Newsum put the Canadians back in front on an assist from Marsh during one minute later.

Near the end of the period Filizayson tied it up again.

Mercurys opened the second frame fast, peppering Tiger goalie Kovacs with seven close-in shots during the first three minutes. Winger Bob Watt finally cashed in on a pass from Hal David at the five-minute mark. The locals claimed an offside on the goal, but the score was allowed.

The late-incoming Filizayson brought his team even three minutes later and the Tigers held the edge through the balance of the period although unable to score.

The action was fast and rugged during the third stanza with both teams about even, until Wright, firing from the blue line through a screen of players, blazed one past Kovacs.

Lions, spearheaded by ex-Edmonton Bill Price, will play a game each against Varsity Golden Bears and Waterloo Meteors.

DESIRE CHANGE

New 5-Pin Association In Meeting

Greater Edmonton and District Bowling Association will hold a meeting in the Recreation Commission building tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Purpose of the get-together is to affiliate those leagues which desire to break away from the Edmonton Five-Pin Bowling Association.

Chairman Fred Caldwell said last night that he expects a good turnout for the meeting which aims to present a new deal for Edmonton's "average bowler."

Recreation Commission building is situated at corner south of the CN rail station.

Modern Design In New Hostelry

Bold, modern designing is the keynote to Edmonton's latest addition to the hostelry field.

Opening wide its anxious glass doors to the public today is the Ambassador—the overnight stop.

Conveniently located at 8325-100 street the new low-slung, one-story building, finished in white stucco, houses eight suites for guests.

On approaching the building a large modern glass front wall is the first thing that attracts the eye.

Built for comfort, the building has the eight suites all on the south side of the lot thus giving the rooms sunny exposures.

Interior decorating is just as bold as the exterior and is highlighted by soft pastel colored walls in the rooms.

"PERSONALIZED MAID"

Gracing the floors are wall-to-wall wide Wilton rugs. Indirect lighting is also used to an advantage in the hallway and suites.

Services include maid system and individual bathrooms with each suite.

Accessories in the suites are all in a glowing pink to offset the color schemes.

Contrasting to the entire building is the office unit located near the entrance of the building.

It's finished in natural soft-colored wood and the floor is covered with a black linoleum.

One of the delegates to the last UN session was an Indian Jesuit, Fr. Jerome D'Souza.

Calgary, Jan. 14 (CPI)—Johnny Millard, hard-hitting Calgary Stampeder of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League, leaves Sunday for a two-game tour with New York Rangers, Stampeder coach, Harry Burke announced yesterday.

The 22-year-old Kenner, On-born leftwinger is playing his second season with Calgary. He previously played with Vancouver Canucks when the Pacific Coast league was an amateur league.

Soccer Greats May Play Here

LONDON, Jan. 14 (CPI)—Football association (soccer) all-star team will sail May 9 aboard the Empress of Scotland for a tour of Canada that probably will include 10 games in the Dominion and possibly another in New York.

They are due back June 30.

The football association said yesterday the final settling of the itinerary is being handled by the Canadian Football association but the first game is tentatively set for Toronto, May 24, and the second in Montreal, May 25.

EDMONTON BULLETIN

Alberta's First Newspaper—Edmonton, Alberta Saturday, January 14, 1950

Synopsis: ALL EYES ARE TURNED TO YOUNG GEOFFREY AS THEY AWAIT HIS EXPLANATION. THIS IS HIS GREAT MOMENT. HE IS THE CENTER OF ATTENTION, THE MAN OF MYSTERY! HE PAUSES DRAMATICALLY:—"MY NAME IS INDEED ARF GEOFFREY . . . !"

"... BUT WHEN THAT WOMAN CAUSED ME TO LEAVE HOME I TOOK THE NAME OF 'GEOFFREY ARF.' DETERMINED NEVER TO RETURN UNTIL I HAD BECOME SIR GEOFFREY, KNIGHT OF THE ROUND TABLE!"

TOR LAY GETS INTO THE ACT: "THAT UNFAITHFUL WOMAN IS GONE NOW. WILL YOU RETURN WITH ME TO YOUR FATHER?"

ARF IS VERY YOUNG, VERY SERIOUS. "NO!" HE DECLAINS. "I REMAIN TO FIGHT SIDE BY SIDE WITH SIR VALIANT AND TO RENDER SERVICE TO MY LADY ALETA AS LONG AS LIFE LASTS!" HE THROWS UP HIS ARM IN A NOBLE GESTURE . . . . .

... AND FALLS FLAT. HE HAS FORGOTTEN THAT, SINCE HIS EXILE FROM BRITAIN, HE HAS BEEN STANDING IN FOREIGN SOIL! THE TENSION OF DRAMA IS BROKEN BY THE RELIEF OF COMEDY.

BUT, BEFORE LAUGHTER CAN COME TO EMBARRASS ARF, BOLUAR HANDS HIS NEW DARTY-HORN TO THE TABLE. "WELL SHOO, JAC!" HE BOOMS. "NOW LET US EAT AND DRINK, FOR EMOTIONAL SCENES ALWAYS MAKE A SENSITIVE MAN HUNGRY!"

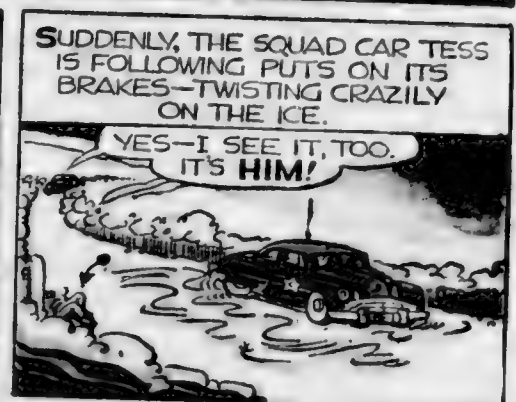

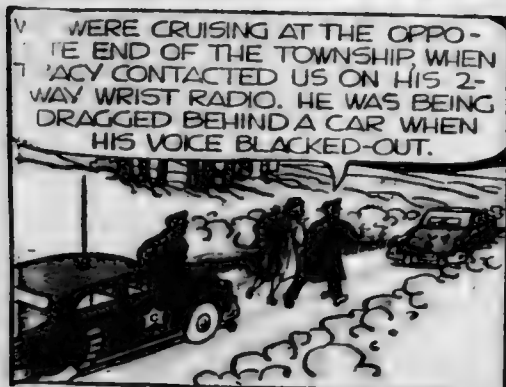

ON THE MORROW THEY ARE TO SAIL FOR TAILE, SO TONIGHT GELUAR AND CUPBOARD ARE SINGHT BARE IN AN EFFORT TO SATISFY THE CELEBRATED APPETITE OF BOLUAR . . .

NEXT WEEK—The Anxious Parent.

CHURCH AUXILIARY WORK DEMANDING

COMPLETE CONFIDENCE of her church group has kept Mrs. J. A. M. Hamilton in office as president of Cathedral Evening Branch of All Saints' Women's Auxiliary for seven years. She finds the work satisfying, the comradeship with members pleasant.

Church Groups Serve Definite Humanity Need

Ear-mark of success of a women's church group is the interest and participation shown by individual members.

Thousands of Edmonton women devote their time to church functions through organizations prompted by Ladies' Aids, Women's Associations, Women's Auxiliaries, Missionary Societies.

In this way a maximum contribution to charity, welfare, social service, and spiritual need is accomplished smoothly, pleasantly and effectively. Care of the sick, the shut-ins, the poor, the lonely and depressed is a major job of such women's groups. Maintenance of church and church property, congregational social gatherings, leadership on the paths of righteous living... all are listed on the agenda of the church group.

Raising funds for church property improvements, a new organ, Sunday School books, leaders for youth groups, are all problems which can be dumped without ceremony into the laps of women's organizations affiliated with the church.

And the job is done.

Countless hours of knitting, sewing, packing hampers, are contributed by hard-working members who fulfill the duty of caring for the sick or needy.

Doing one's best for an organization results in being asked to accept even further responsibility. When annual meeting time shows on the calendar, executive officers are elected for their qualities of leadership, devotion to cause, enthusiasm and accomplishments.

Annual meetings taking place in late December and the month prior celebrate Mrs. J. A. Leach, president of Robertson United Methodist Association; Mrs. Fraser Danson, leader of First Presbyterian Central Ladies' Aid; Mrs. W. B. Yule, Central United Church Women's Missionary Society president.

Duty of these leaders is to mold their groups into smoothly operating organizations of responsibility and accomplishment.

Other newly-elected leaders include:

Mrs. Peter Radnik, Ukrainian Ladies' Aid of St. John; Mrs. James Gell, First Side Ladies' Aid, First Presbyterian Church; Mrs. T. L. Corbett, Women's Missionary Society, Robertson United Church; Mrs. Michael Sawchukowich, Ukrainian Catholic Women's League; Mrs. H. Shirley, Westminster United Church Women's Association.

SPARE TIME DEVOTED TO CHURCH WORK

NEEDY FAMILIES, hospitalized shut-ins, church administrators look to women's associations for ready and willing assistance. Mrs. Salony Simmonds, recently elected president of McDougall United Church Women's Association, says her group's members keep busy knitting, sewing for subscription projects.

MEETINGS COMBINE BUSINESS, PLEASURE

SPIRITUAL, EDUCATIONAL values of a church missionary group combine with warmth of companionship for women members. Mrs. A. A. Walker, recently elected president of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Women's Missionary Society looks forward to her term of office.

MISSIONARY STUDY GROUP ACTIVE IN CHURCH

ANNUAL REPORTS of activities of McDougall United Church Women's Missionary Society showed increased participation and interest in group projects. This is heartening to new president Mrs. A. D. Richard. In addition to mission study, groups of this type send financial aid to foreign missions.

Modern Quarters For English Cars

Mill Creek Motors Open
New City Show Rooms

New, modernistic showroom and servicing facilities for northern Alberta's only English car agency—Mill Creek Motors—opens at 9562-82 avenue Saturday.

J. R. SCHILLE
... Partner.

GORDON BJORGE
... Salesman.

LEE WOLD
... Salesman.

There is enough floor space to exhibit four cars at a time so customers will be able to view England's best in comfort.

The new building, which also houses offices of the firm is located directly opposite the old showroom-garage on 9562-82 avenue.

TASTEFUL INTERIOR

Scuff-proof concrete floor, tastefully painted in red, contrasts and adds to the bright green interior walls. One outstanding feature of the interior decorating is the Wellesley tile ceiling which is studded with fluorescent tubes for lighting.

Heating of the new building, done thermostatically by overhead heaters, gives a spread of warm air throughout the entire showroom.

Popular makes of English autos will be handled by Mill Creek Motors.

These include Morris, Morris Minor, sedan and convertible;

A. J. LARSON
... Partner.

Morris quarter-ton trucks, the M.G. sports car and the Riley.

SMALL PARTS BAR

To be located outside the building which conveniently is placed on a corner lot, will be two low, modern gas pumps.

Inside the building, beside the showroom, will be a "small parts bar" and accessory store.

Most maintenance work will be carried on in the old garage across the street, said A. J. Larson, company president and general manager.

Three salesmen and a service mechanic will be on hand to explain to the public the vital difference between American-made and English-built cars.

Hard Work, Faith Build Business

It took a long time but Edmontonian A. J. Larson figures it's worth it.

Saturday Mr. Larson and his partner J. R. Schille opened an entirely modernistic showroom in which to display English built automobiles.

Years of hard work and faith in "the best cars ever built" went into the new showroom and offices which open tomorrow, says Mr. Larson.

Bringing solid automobile experience with him, Mr. Larson personally will head his sales staff of well trained men and mechanics to present the English cars to the public.

The cars will be shown to advantage in the showroom. It is harmoniously colored to emphasize the high points of the automobile design.

On the sales staff of the firm is ex-service man Gordon Borge and Lee Wold who doubles as a mechanic.

Mr. Borge saw service with the navy during the war and has had sales experience with Canadian Pacific Airlines and various other Edmonton firms.

Mr. Wold brings with him a wealth of experience after 20 years in the automobile business.

"We feel that only ultimate satis-

COLD WEATHER
Here's Why

A USEFUL TIRE HINT
Tests have proven that tires "broken in" during cold weather will give longer and better service than tires applied in warm weather.
Buy B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns ... the outstanding tires on the market. They're designed and built to give you long, dependable service ... more tire value per dollar.
Yet they are priced at less than pre-war prices.

THE Frog Lions

By Irwin Shaw

White Nosh Ackerman, and Michael Whitmore have been advancing with the American army toward Paris, the third "Young Lion," Christian Dierl, has been retreating with his fellow Germans toward the same city. He has run across his old friend Brandt who knows him in Paris. No go to war the story—

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

AN EVENING IN PARIS
Christian Dierl seemed to have been retreating all his life. He had no memory any more of ever advancing any place. Retreat was the condition, the general weather of existence. Going back, going back, always back, always exhausted, always with the smell of German death in his nostrils, always with enemy planes flickering behind his back, their guns dancing brightly in their wings, their pilots grinning because they were safe and they were killing hundreds of men a minute.

"Walk with me," Brandt said softly. "Walk slowly around the square. I don't want anyone to hear what I am going to say to you. He started along the narrow side walk, along the shuttered row of shops. Christian noticed with surprise that Brandt looked considerably older than when they were together, that there was considerable gray at the photographer's temples and heavy lines around his eyes and mouth, and that he was very thin.

"Listen," Brandt said, "what do you intend to do?"
"I've come to Berlin," Christian said. "I expect to equal the existing record."
"Listen," Brandt said. "I have a two-master English car in a farmer's barn one mile from here."
"Well, . . .," Christian asked, trying to seem very keen and understanding. "Why were you hanging around here all day?"
"I can't drive," Brandt said bitterly. "Imagine that, I never learned to drive a car!"

"Germany is finished," Brandt was saying, his voice thin and weary, but loud, to be heard against the rush of night wind that piled across the open car as they went at the same steady pace as the sleeping countryside. "Only a lunatic would risk it. Look at what's happening. Collapse. Nobody saves a damn."

"What are you telling me all this for?" Christian asked, keeping his eyes on the pale road ahead of him, thinking, surely he has a plan, but I will not commit myself to him yet.
"Because when I get to Paris," Brandt said slowly, "I'm going to desert."
They drove in silence for a full minute.

"It is not the correct way to go," said Brandt. "It is not I who am deserting. It is the Army which has deserted me. I intend to make it official."

A thoughtful man, Christian thought admiringly, a man who figured things out reasonably in advance.
"Listen," Brandt said, "you know my friend, Simone."
"Are you still connected with her?" Christian asked, surprised.
"We intend to marry," Brandt said firmly, "as soon as this damned thing is over."

"Of course," said Christian, slowing down as they passed a column. "She's got a nice apartment." Brandt said, "two bedrooms. You can stay there, too."
They arrived in Paris the next day. There was very little traffic on the streets.

"Here," Brandt whispered, "Stop here."
Two minutes later Brandt approached the doorway of a four-story house, its shaded window blind against the street. Brandt went in.

They climbed to the top floor and Brandt knocked on a door gently. The door opened quickly, almost as though whoever lived in the apartment had been waiting eagerly for the signal. A beam of light flooded into the hallway, and Christian saw the figure of a woman in a long robe. Then the woman threw herself into Brandt's arms. She began to sob, brokenly, saying "You're here, oh, Christian, you're here . . . you're here."

"Now," she said, and Christian remembered her light, soft voice very well. "Now, we have time to be polite." She turned to Christian.

"You remember Dierl, don't you?" Brandt said.

"Of course, of course." She put out her hand impulsively. Christian shook it. "I am so glad to see you. We have talked about you."

Homelike and Secure
They stepped into the apartment and Simone looked the door herman, how long do you think it will be before the Americans get here?"

"Two weeks," said Christian. "A month."
"Oh," Françoise said, "we are in for an interesting time, aren't we?"

Christian did not sleep. He lay uncomfortably, with growing restlessness. Swiftly and soundlessly Christian dressed himself. Françoise stirred once, threw her arm out languidly toward the other side of her bed, but she did not awake. Her arm looked white and make-like stretched into the warm emptiness beside her.

Christian stole through the door and closed it softly behind him.
"Very good, Sergeant," the Colonel began. "You will go with Lieutenant von Schlein and point out the house and identify the deserter and the women who are hiding him."

"Yes, Sir," said Christian.
In the small car with Lieutenant von Schlein, which preceded the open truck with the soldiers, Christian asked, "What will happen to him?"

"Oh," said von Schlein, yawning, taking off his glasses "we'll shoot him tomorrow. We could do a dozen deserters a day, and now, with the retreat, business will be better than ever. He put his glasses back and peered out. "Is this the street?"

Standing on the curb, leaning against the car in which he had come from SS Headquarters, Christian could hear the bell tolling.

FIR FLOORING
By Christian

Finally there was a clanking at the door and Christian heard the brittle, sleepy voice of the con- dierge. Von Schlein barked at her in rapid French and the door swung open. Von Schlein and the four soldiers went in and the door closed behind them.

The door was flung open once more and Brandt, with a civilian coat thrown over pajamas, came out between two soldiers. Right after him came Françoise and Simone. In robes and slippers, Simone was sobbing. In a childish, strangled, tearing conversation, but Françoise looked out at the soldiers with calm detestation.

Christian stared at Brandt, who looked painfully back at him in the daylight. There was no expression on Brandt's face, snatched out of its deep, secure sleep, only dull exhaustion. Christian noted the lined, over-delicate, compromising, smiling face. Why, he thought with surprise, does he not even look like a German?

"That's the man," Christian said to von Schlein, "and those are the two women."
(To be continued)

"Not right now," said Christian. Suddenly he couldn't bear the thought of this long-bonded, green-eyed, mocking woman leaving him. "I've been a lot more tired than this in my time."
"You do look very tired, you know."
"I do not wish to go to sleep."

Françoise Mocks Christian
Françoise nodded gently. "The ever-working Sergeant. Does not wish to go to sleep. Prefers to remain awake, at great personal sacrifice, and entertain a lonely French lady who is at a house end until the Americans enter Paris."
She put her hand, palm upward, over her eyes. The loose sleeve falling back from the slender wrist and the long, sharp-pointed fingers. "Tomorrow," she said, "we will enter your name for the Legion of Honor, second class, service to the French nation."

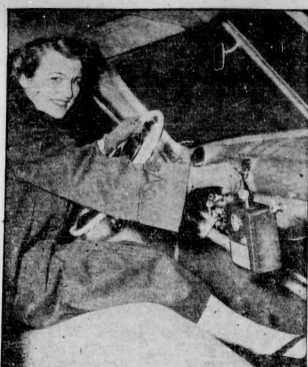

"Enough," Christian said, without moving from his chair. "Stop making fun of me."
"Nothing," said Françoise flatly, "could be further from my mind. I love you, Sergeant, as a military man."

YOU HAVE NEEDS . . . Britain is making the goods to meet them

Designing for your needs now has first call on Britain's resources and skill. She has studied your requirements, and has welcomed your buyers in greater numbers every year.

Exhibiting at the British Industries Fair 3,000 manufacturers will reveal their latest products, and from every country overseas 16,000 buyers will assemble to make immediate selections for their own markets.

Making new goods for the world has raised Britain's production to a record level. In turn these exports enable her to buy—and Britain is the world's greatest customer.

Industry Adding Better Methods

"Antrophal," a process developed by Swedish manufacturer, combines an anti-corrosive paint and a radical method of application to form a protective coating. Said to have three times the life of existing protective painting methods.

System uses a paint made of can't expand and extend under rest of the protected surface, it is no solvents. When cold, mixture forms a waxy mass. Paint is first melted in a spray gun by heat, then sprayed through flame onto surface.

The mixture bonds with the metal or material to form a hard coating immediately. Surface pores are sealed and the flame dries the rubber cushion of Weco Doors—supplements spring action.

Fire Blanket: Roller-type fire blanket, developed by Philadelphia firm, protects plant employee in hazardous locations. Roller, which works like an ordinary window shade, mounts vertically on a wall. If workers clothes catch fire, he runs arm through a loop that hangs from the blanket and wraps the blanket around himself.

DETAIL OF KITCHEN & DINETTE for "The Beverly"
COURTESY OF STAFFS OF UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, BATTLE TOWER.
HAROLD C. BECKETT, ARCHITECT, LANDSCAPE SPECIALIST, WINDSOR

THE "BEVERLY"—Above is illustrated a most attractive detail applicable to the home combining a kitchen and dinette. The material to be used in the kitchen would be a smooth hard surface for enamel finish. Window stools would be colorful. Windows indicated are steel casement, screened inside with bronze operable. Any steel sash manufacturer can supply this type of window. Round tops or linoleum bound with stainless steel grip. The seats would have pads of synthetic leather, colored bright red. Floor of linoleum or rubber tile. This detail is for the "Beverly" which was shown in last week's paper. Design by Harold C. Beckett, architect, Windsor, Ontario.

Bylaw Regulates Halls, Stairways

Builders Advised to Study Requirements Set by City

By Art Eiter
Vestibules, halls and stairs in new homes must conform with certain minimum standards laid down by the city building bylaw.

For the benefit of prospective builders drawing up their own plans or perusing different sets of ready-made plans, here are the standards, prepared with co-operation of the city architect and building inspector's department.

Vestibules or entrance halls must be at least 7' 6" wide and 5' 6" deep, and halls or passageways must be at least three feet wide. All stairs must have uniform treads at least eight inches wide, with riser height of no more than eight inches. Recommended height is seven inches.

MINIMUM HEADROOM
Headroom of at least 6' 4" must be provided on all stairs, measured vertically from nosing of the tread. Clearance between handrails on both sides must be at least 2' 10".

Clearance between enclosing partitions around main stairs must be at least three feet.

Clear width of stairs to attic, storage space and basement shall not be less than 2' 6".

Handrails must be provided on basement stairs and around stairs of all spaces.

WINDING STAIRS
Where winding stairs are required connecting two floor levels, two angled runways with three windings will be permitted for one 90 degree turn only.

Use of a single riser on stairs will not be approved, because a single step is too easy for a person to miss, whereas two present an apparent change in level.

Modern Trends Met By Heating Industry

Such trends in modern architecture as houses with picture windows from floor to ceiling, the one-story ranch-type house and the basementless house would have presented a heating problem a few years ago.

Today, however, thanks to innovations in equipment, such difficulties are taken in stride by heating industry, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

New types of heating unit direct the heat to the lower or occupied portion of rooms, better control, and improvements in installation methods are among the new developments which enable the heating industry today to provide comfort in houses which, only a few years ago, would have been classed as "hard to heat," the bureau points out.

IMPROVED CONTROLS

The problem of providing comfortable conditions in rooms with a large glass area has been solved partly by improved types of controls and partly by new developments in pump heating, baseboard heating equipment, radiators, and convectors.

A large glass area presents a comfort problem. When the sun is not shining on the glass, discomfort sometimes results as the occupants of the room may be exposed to both the effect of the

When individually zoned, a separate thermostat regulates the heat input into the room so that, when the sun is shining on the glass, the heat input is reduced or, if necessary, eliminated. On the other hand, when the room is shaded, the amount of heat going into the room is increased.

Climate and Building Probed by Scientists

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Building Research Advisory Board, an agency of the National Research Council, National Academy of Sciences, will devote its first research conference to the study of climate and its effect on building design, construction, materials and equipment, it has been announced by William H. Schick, the board's executive director.

The conference will be held in Washington, D.C., on January 11 and 12, at the building of the National Academy of Sciences, of which the National Research Council is the operating agency.

The purpose of the conference is to further co-operation in weather science and building research. Other data has become increasingly important in building research, but according to Francis W. Reichelderfer, chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau, no one has ever gathered what kind or how much information about weather and climate is needed by the building industry.

Recently a new type of regional climate analysis has been developed from weather data by a staff of scientists under the direction of Dr. Ralph Linton of Yale University, working on the climate control project sponsored by House Beautiful magazine. The first published results of this new field of climate research have interested architects, engineers and leaders in the building industry in the possibilities of using accurate interpretations of weather data for the advancement of building technology.

BASIS FOR DISCUSSION
The climatologic and micro-climatologic research developed by the climate control project will be the basis for broad discussions of weather science and building research at the conference.

During the four-days research on climate, building materials, agricultural design and heating and cooling systems will be discussed by leading scientists in each field.

Dr. C. F. Rasweiler, chairman of the executive committee of the Building Research Advisory Board and vice president in charge of research and development for John-Manville Corporation, will join with

Insulated Tanks If Controls Used

Nothing can be more annoying than an inadequate supply of hot water and it is well to make provision against such inconvenience when building. In areas where the water has a corroding effect on galvanized steel pipe and tanks, you will be well advised to have copper or other non-corroding metal tanks installed.

Water meter units are heated by electricity or gas, and the heat is regulated by thermostatic controls. It is a "must" that the tank be insulated for the sake of economy, but insulated tanks should not be less than 2' 6".
